OpZOmism:

10 year old Zoe McMorran was recently diagnosed with an aggressive form of brain cancer. She has asked everyone to be not an optimist, but an opZOmist. Thinking about ways to be opZOmistic, is what inspired The Great Pumpkin Challenge. 50% of the total proceeds will go to Zoe's fund, to help pay for her costly treatment. The other half will go the American Cancer Society, to find a cure, so that nobody else will have to suffer from cancer . Together we can change the world, one pumpkin at a time!
